2. The concept of "member" is extended to all C.I.P.S. member National Federations. For - International Federation - shall mean the union of the National Federations of Angling in fresh waters worldwide. The C.I.P.S. statutes shall retain their full validity with respect to F.I.P.S.e.d., incorporated within C.I.P.S., as well as its members.

ARTICLES

ARTICLE 1

Name and head office

1. F.I.P.S.e.d., as incorporated within C.I.P.S., was established on July 15th 1972 in Prague (Czech Republic).
2. F.I.P.S.e.d. head office is located in the headquarter of the National Federation the Chairman belongs to.

ARTICLE 2

Object, aims and activity

1. F.I.P.S.e.d., within C.I.P.S., shall aim to spread the practice of angling in fresh waters throughout the world and to protect and preserve the environment, natural habitat, waters and fish, youth and tourism in close cooperation with all C.I.P.S. member National Federations. In order to reach such a goal, it shall undertake to establish close relations with National Federations practicing angling in fresh waters not yet affiliated to C.I.P.S..
2. F.I.P.S.e.d. shall contribute to the understanding and friendship among peoples in accordance with the Olympic ideal, and to the keeping of peace worldwide through the angling sport in fresh waters. To this end, F.I.P.S.e.d. shall undertake to entertain friendly relations with all the other world organizations pursuing similar goals, and to cooperate with them.
3. F.I.P.S.e.d. within C.I.P.S. has its own statutes, it shall carry out its own activities according to the C.I.P.S. statutes and shall act pursuant to the statutes as set forth by the C.I.P.S. Congress and its own General Assembly, to the working program, financial plan and provisions as ratified by the C.I.P.S. Praesidium in order to carry through the resolutions of the Congress.
4. F.I.P.S.e.d. is an international sports organization of universal nature. Any federation allowing political, creed, racial or gender discriminations to be made within its own organization or either belonging or being affiliated to organizations practicing any such discriminations, shall not be allowed to be part of F.I.P.S.e.d.. F.I.P.S.e.d. members cannot be considered responsible for actions taken by their own government.
5. In order to develop angling in fresh waters worldwide, F.I.P.S.e.d., within C.I.P.S., shall organize yearly World and Zone Championships (like European Championships) and special cups, these shall be announced specifically.
The aim of these events is to allow F.I.P.S.e.d. member National Federations to compete in fresh waters by means of loyal sports competitions thus enabling anglers and officials alike to become acquainted with each other and to establish friendly relations, hence contributing to the understanding among different communities.
6. F.I.P.S.e.d., within C.I.P.S., shall support any undertaking of its member National Federations contemplating the organization of international meetings and cups.

7. F.I.P.S.e.d. shall make sure that during international events organized on behalf of C.I.P.S that regulations and statutes are aboded by.
8. To this end, soon after undertaking the organization of world and European championships or international competitions, each National Federation shall be asked to provide F.I.P.S.e.d. with a written declaration with its commitment to observe C.I.P.S. and F.I.P.S.e.d. statutes as well as the competition rules.

ARTICLE 3

Members

1. Membership to F.I.P.S.e.d. shall be opened to any National Federation practicing angling in fresh waters on condition that it acknowledges C.I.P.S. and the F.I.P.S.e.d. statutes and provided that its admission shall have been approved by the majority of the General Assembly of the member National Federations and then ratified by the C.I.P.S. Congress.
2. The statutes of the concerned National Federations must clearly state that each and every citizen of the state belonging to such federation may become a member thereof regardless of their political or religious creed or the colour of their skin. To this end, all Federations shall be caused to lodge their own statutes to the C.I.P.S. and F.I.P.S.e.d. Directing Committee.
3. F.I.P.S.e.d. shall be composed of:
 - a) Ordinary members;
 - b) Candidate members;
 - c) Promoting members.

With respect to point a) and b) above any Federation practicing angling in fresh waters shall be allowed to become ordinary or Candidate member of F.I.P.S.e.d..

With respect to point c) above, the institutions that acknowledge the F.I.P.S.e.d. and C.I.P.S. statutes and that contribute to the development of fresh water angling and to the preservation of waters and environment worldwide from a moral and organization viewpoint, shall be allowed to become Candidate members of F.I.P.S.e.d..

F.I.P.S.e.d. members shall be admitted only upon decision of the C.I.P.S. Congress.

4. Any Federation wishing to become member of F.I.P.S.e.d. shall be caused to submit an application thereof to the F.I.P.S.e.d. Secretariat itself specifying what type of member they wish to become. Subject to the approval of the F.I.P.S.e.d. Assembly, the application shall be further reviewed by the C.I.P.S. Congress, which Congress shall resolve upon the final admission of the Federation concerned. Only one National Federation per country may be affiliated to F.I.P.S.e.d..
5. Any National Federation applying for a membership to the F.I.P.S.e.d. General Assembly and C.I.P.S. Congress may support the application through its own representative only upon the application being taken into consideration. Once admission is granted the representatives of the Federation concerned shall be fully entitled to take part in the discussion of the F.I.P.S.e.d. General Assembly and C.I.P.S. Congress.
6. F.I.P.S.e.d. member countries belonging to a same region of the world may form F.I.P.S.e.d. zones under the initiative of one or more affiliated Federations. F.I.P.S.e.d. will determine the concerned management, borders and creation of its own zones. Rules defined by F.I.P.S.e.d. shall never contrast with the C.I.P.S. statutes. Zones established by F.I.P.S.e.d. must receive the final agreement and approval by C.I.P.S., that being ratified during following C.I.P.S. Assembly.
